Community Foundation president, CEO*

Feathers, fringes and fedoras were everywhere at the Roaring '20s-inspired dinner dance to benefit the Community Foundation for Palm Beach and Martin Counties.

The Great Gatsby Gala took place Jan. 23 at the Flagler Museum.

The evening began with cocktails in the Great Hall, then moved to the West Room, where board chairwoman Debbie Pucillo introduced Brad Hurlburt, the organization's new president and CEO.

Anson Beard, co-chairman of the event with Peter Matwiczuk and Roy Zuckerberg, also spoke, pointing out the success of the Community Foundation over the past year, including the substantial growth of its endowment.

Debra Beard, Carol Matwiczuk and Tara Kelleher were chairwomen for the event, which continued with dinner at tables centered with candelabra draped with Gatsbyesque pearls, and with dancing to the music of the Bob Hardwick Orchestra.

Christina and Benjamin Macfarland III and Angela and Douglas Stockham were the honorary chairwomen and honorary chairmen.

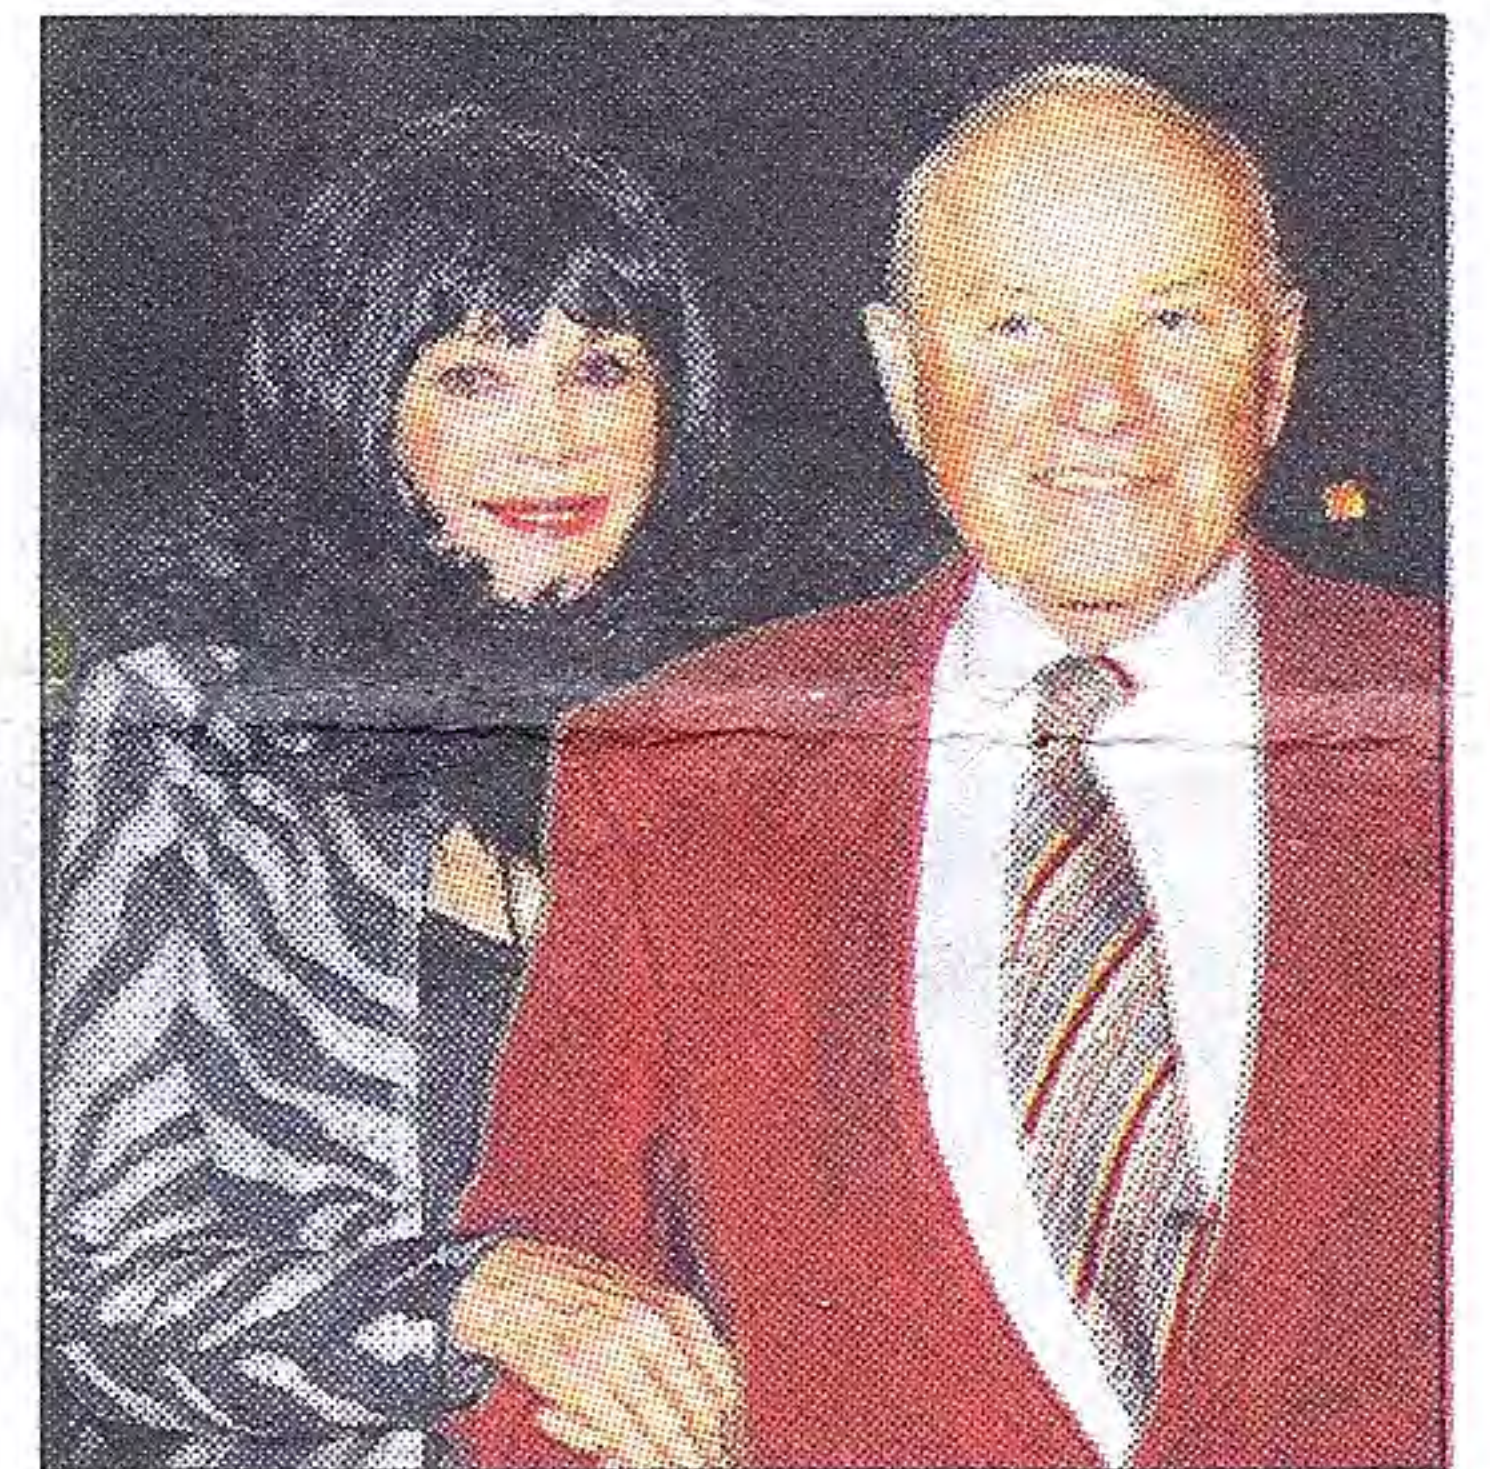

More than 125 people attended, including Lore Dodge, David Ober, Charlie and Ann — looking fabulous in a short, dark flapper bob — Johnson, Nadine Allen and Sanjiv Sharma, Ornella Morrow, Lesley and Rick Stone, Sally and Paul Gringas, Kim and Ray Celedinas, Stacy and Andrew Kushner, Laura and Eric Silagy, Irene Karp, Carrie and J.B. Murray, Estelle and Steve Templeton, Lisa and Larry Miller, Kathleen Emmett, Paulette Koch, Judge Kathleen Kroll, George Elmore, and Ann and John Surovek.

Proceeds assist the Community Foundation for Palm Beach and Martin Counties' leadership work in the community and its mission to connect philanthropists to important issues and causes.
