Aug. 14: The Preservation Society of Newport County held a dinner-dance at Marble House in Newport, R.I. The event celebrated the temporary return to the Gothic Room of about 300 artworks sold by the Vanderbilts in 1927 to John Ringling North for his Florida museum. The works, some from the medieval and Renaissance periods, are hanging exactly where they were in 1892. Many of the 400 guests lingered for a nightcap.
