

Page Six™

Richard Johnson

With Paula Froelich
and Chris Wilson

Lucinda-lock

LUCINDA Williams really gave fans their money's worth when she opened for Neil Young at Jones Beach the other night. After firing up the crowd with a rollicking set, the 50-year-old alt-country queen watched Young's set from the side of the stage accompanied by what one attendee described as a "tall, hairy roadie dude." The couple proceeded to engage in a torrid tongue-wrestling match for 15 minutes — prompting some fans close to the stage to hoot, "Get a room, Lucinda!" Lucinda and her lad took the hint, and disappeared backstage.

Sightings

AMERICAN Ballet Theater's Marcelo Gomes doing pirouettes at Da Silvano at the request of a delighted Meg Ryan ... INSIDE trader Ivan Boesky and 250 guests watching proudly as his art-dealing daughter Mariann married Liam Culman at Nantucket's Sankaty Head Golf Club and later cut the cake while society bandleader Bob Hardwick played "A Kiss to Build a Dream On."